

The role of the Research and Enterprise Directorate is to help deliver the University's vision for excellence and impact across its research and enterprise activities through a professional support service.

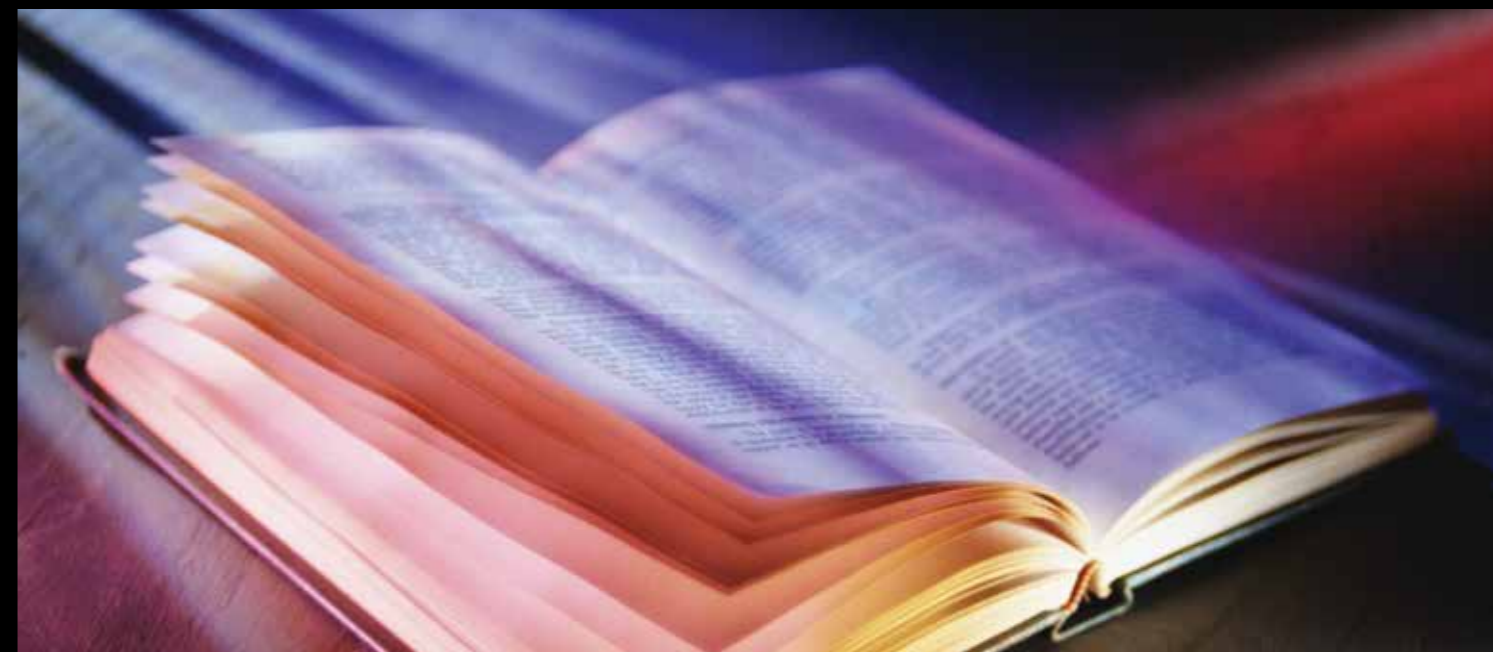

The Directorate facilitates high-quality academic research through development of research strategy and policy, by supporting researchers in accessing funding and forming new collaborations, and through governance procedures, research information systems and contracting support.

The Directorate also works with University colleagues, students, industry and the wider community to provide support from the conception of an early idea or concept through to a range of knowledge exchange and commercialisation outcomes.
