THE SEAMUS HEANEY CENTRE PRIZE FOR POETRY 2010

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

THE PRIZE

- a) The Seamus Heaney Centre for Poetry invites submissions from publishers or individual poets for its annual prize awarded to the author of what in the opinion of the judges is the best first full collection of poetry published in the United Kingdom or Ireland in the preceding year.
- b) The shortlist of up to five titles will be announced in June 2010.
- c) The judges will announce their final decision at a presentation at the British and Irish Contemporary Poetry Conference at the School of English, Queen's University, 15th-17th September 2010. The Prize for 2010 will be £1000. It is expected that the winning poet will be invited to read their poetry at a public event at the Seamus Heaney Centre.

ELIGIBILITY

- a) Any first collection of at least 40 pages published in the UK or Ireland between 1 January 2009 and 31 December 2009 is eligible.
- b) The entry must be in book format and not the format of a magazine, pamphlet, periodical or anthology.
- c) Entries for consideration may have been written by authors of any nationality but the work must be published in the United Kingdom or Ireland. The work must be written or have been translated into the English language.
- d) All entries must be published in the UK or Republic of Ireland within the dates specified (see above).
- e) Anthologies or collections of works by more than one author are not eligible.
- f) Submissions may come from publishers OR authors, who may enter an unlimited number of titles.
- g) Books must be the work of one poet.
- h) A collection of translations by various hands is not eligible.

- i) A book by a current judge is not eligible.
- j) All books must carry an ISBN.
- k) Members of staff and current or former students at the Seamus Heaney Centre for Poetry are not eligible to enter.
- l) Should these rules not fully cover any particular circumstances, the decision of the judges on the eligibility of a collection of poetry is final and binding.

JUDGING

- a) The Chairman of the judges will be the current Director of the Seamus Heaney Centre for Poetry.
- b) Two further judges will be appointed annually by the Seamus Heaney Centre.
- c) The judges will compile a short list of up to five outstanding books of poetry.
- d) From the short list, the judges will select the final winner.
- e) The judges have absolute discretion in interpreting the rules, and their decision is final.
- f) The judges may split the Prize between two or more entries or withhold the Prize if they do not consider any entry to be of sufficient merit.
- g) Should a prize-winning book be a translation from a living poet, the prize is awarded 60% to the translator and 40% to the original poet. If the original poet is dead, but his/her work is within copyright, 40% of the prize is given to the original poet's estate.

HOW TO ENTER

- a) Four copies of each work must be submitted with each application. These are not returnable.
- b) Applications should be submitted as soon as possible by the publisher OR author responsible for the first publication of an English language edition of that work in the United Kingdom or Ireland.
- c) Each submission must include an Entry Form along with any available press material, including a current biography and photograph of the author and/or translator. The Entry Form is downloadable from the Seamus Heaney Centre website at www.qub.ac.uk/schools/SeamusHeaneyCentreforPoetry.
- d) Publishers may submit any number of titles.

- e) Submission of an author's work by his publisher will be taken as agreement by the author that s/he is willing for the submitted work to be considered, and to participate in all reasonable publicity associated with the Seamus Heaney Centre Poetry Prize.
- f) The Seamus Heaney Centre may at any time invite publishers to submit a book which has not been submitted. In that event, the publisher will be required to forward an entry form along with four copies of the book to the Seamus Heaney Centre Poetry Prize, and to comply with all other rules and regulations.
- g) The Seamus Heaney Centre will acknowledge receipt of submissions by email.
- h) The deadline for receipt of entries to the 2010 Seamus Heaney Centre Poetry Prize is Friday 30th April.
