'Grammar' Paper

Your answer book contains a short extract of text which contains 15 errors in either grammar, punctuation or use of homophones. Errors in spelling do not form part of this assessment. You should place an "x" in the box next to the line of text which you believe contains an error. With the exception of your examination number you should not make any other marks on the answer book.

You will receive marks for each correct answer which you identify with an "x". However, if you identify an answer as correct when it is in fact incorrect, the same amount of marks will be deducted as would have been awarded for a correct answer.

Numeracy Paper

Your answer book contains ten questions. In respect of each question you should work out what you believe to be the correct answer.

The answer book contains five possible answers in respect of each question. You should place an "x" in the box next to the answer which you believe to be correct. With the exception of your examination number you should not make any other marks on the answer book.

You will receive marks for each correct answer which you identify with an "x". However, if you identify an answer as correct when it is in fact incorrect, the same amount of marks will be deducted as would have been awarded for a correct answer.
