WELCOME TO BELFAST

As the capital of Northern Ireland, Belfast is one of the UK's friendliest, most vibrant and affordable student cities. Its cinematic beauty is world-renowned: surrounded by mountains and with 47 city parks to explore, forest walks and nature trails are on your doorstep, while charming beaches and epic countrysides are less than 25 minutes away.

HERITAGE MEETS MODERNITY

The fabric of Belfast changes as you move effortlessly from quarter to quarter – from the cobbled streets and fascinating architecture of the Cathedral Quarter to the sleek urban waterfront development of the Titanic Quarter, home to the city's flourishing film industry.

BUZZING SOCIAL SCENE

Belfast's long tradition in music, art and culture is amplified by world-class galleries and museums, large-scale entertainment venues and concert halls, as well as independent music and arts venues.

The superb St George's Market is the centre of the city's booming gourmet scene and Belfast is brimming with great international restaurants, thriving urban cafés and craft breweries.

You'll also find hip vintage shops, whimsical art markets, designer boutiques and multi-brand department stores.

THE BELFAST EXPERIENCE

As a major UK capital, Belfast is big enough to attract global industry and compete in the international knowledge economy, but small enough to get around easily amid an atmosphere of friendliness, hospitality and openness.

NORTHERN IRELAND'S LEGENDARY BEAUTY

There's plenty to see outside the city, too, including the famous filming locations for the HBO series Game of Thrones, the awe-inspiring Giant's Causeway, voted the UK's best Heritage Attraction, and the Mourne Mountains, an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty canonised as CS Lewis' Narnia.

‘YOU DON'T HAVE TO GO FAR TO FIND GREEN SPACE’

“I'd always heard about how beautiful the landscape was in Northern Ireland, but I never imagined it would be so close to University that I could almost reach out and touch it. Expect a breathtaking sight at every turn, whether it be mountains, beaches or forests. What made me fall in love with Northern Ireland even more is the fact that you don't have to go very far to indulge in some green space. The Botanic Gardens, the towpath along the Lagan River, and the parks in the city are all walking distance from campus. Belfast was the perfect choice of city for me: it is small enough to feel like home, but big enough to hold a new adventure every day.”

RESEARCH WITH GLOBAL IMPACT

As one of the world's top research-intensive universities, Queen's is committed to addressing major social challenges through our Global Research Institutes (GRIs). These flagships for interdisciplinary research bring together a critical mass of world-renowned researchers to address global issues. How do we tackle cancer, respiratory conditions, eye disease? How do we help societies recovering from conflict? How do our lives stay secure in the midst of the expanding information explosion? We're answering the world's big questions – and we're doing it here in Belfast.

FIGHTING WORLD HUNGER

The Institute for Global Food Security is at the forefront of tackling one of the greatest global challenges – how to ensure a sufficient, safe and nutritious supply of food for the world's population.

BUILDING A PEACEFUL SOCIETY

The Senator George J Mitchell Institute for Global Peace, Security and Justice is helping governments, international agencies and civil society answer questions about peace, security and justice, informed by the post-conflict society in Northern Ireland.

PROTECTING AGAINST CYBER CRIME

The multi award-winning Institute of Electronics, Communications and Information Technology (ECIT) is the research anchor at Catalyst Inc – formerly the Northern Ireland Science Park – one of the UK's largest research and innovation campuses. Tackling challenges associated with digital growth, ECIT is developing the next generation of cyber security technologies, redefining wireless communications and addressing the information explosion through data science and scalable computing.

WORKING TO CURE DISEASE

The Institute of Health Sciences is focused on addressing cancer, respiratory conditions, eye disease and diabetic vascular complications through its three operational divisions: the Centre for Cancer Research and Cell Biology (CCRCB), the Centre for Public Health (CPH) and the Wellcome-Wolfson Institute for Experimental Medicine.

OUR RESEARCH HAS A DIRECT IMPACT ON YOU

"I chose Queen's because of the sheer amount of research happening at the Centre for Cancer Research and Cell Biology (CCRCB). This up-to-the-minute research informs our lectures, and we then have a chance to apply what we've learned in a real-world setting through hospital-based teaching.

Doctors nowadays are more than just doctors, they are clinical researchers, too. I gained valuable insight into the biomedical research at the CCRCB as part of a summer studentship. This gave me the opportunity to interact daily with leading researchers and scientists in the labs who were happy to give their time to teach and guide me.

It was inspiring to be in an environment where medical breakthroughs are made literally every week. I now feel confident that I would like to have a research aspect to my daily clinical life. I want to be a part of the upcoming generation of medical researchers making a difference in the world."

Tejas Harita, Bachelor of Medicine undergraduate from the UAE

ENABLING YOUR FUTURE CAREER

We can help you plan to develop your employability throughout your time at Queen's and beyond. We can support you in making career decisions and help you take advantage of opportunities including studying abroad, work experience and graduate jobs. We also give you opportunities to stretch your ambitions by meeting employers and participating in career development programmes.

EMPLOYER-ENDORSED SKILLS AWARD

Degree Plus allows you to gain accreditation for work-related activities that you undertake outside of your degree. The award is supported by employers who recognise the value of extracurricular experience. Over 1,000 students graduate with Degree Plus every year.

CONNECTING YOU WITH EMPLOYERS

Many employers hire graduates that they already know. Internships place you with an employer. It's the best way to gain insight into how the world of work and business operates (see example overleaf). Some internships are part of vocational courses. Some, like our Graduate Internship Programme, support new graduates in gaining paid, graduate level employment.

GLOBAL OPPORTUNITIES

Queen's encourages students to take advantage of a period of study at an overseas university or an international work placement as part of their degree. Our most popular international scheme is the European Erasmus Programme*.

The scheme enables students to spend part of their degree studying or working in another European country. Queen's also has a growing range of options outside of Europe, including programmes in Australia, Canada, China, India and the USA.

*The Erasmus Programme is funded with the support of the European Union. Continued participation post-Brexit is to be confirmed.

YOUR CAREER STARTS HERE

The careers and employability services we offer include:

- One-to-one consultations with professionally qualified careers consultants
- Dedicated employer engagement staff and an internship programme, allowing you to make vital connections with potential future employers.

MAKE QUEEN'S YOUR HOME

"I love doing tours of Queen's Accommodation for new international students as they are always wowed by the cost and quality of the rooms. Many international students – particularly those from the USA – expect to have to share a bedroom on campus, especially as the rent is so affordable. The new students I meet are always pleasantly surprised to find that the majority of options at Queen's include private bedrooms, many with en suite bathrooms. Meanwhile, students from Eastern countries are relieved that the University caters for cultural sensitivities with single sex and alcohol-free living available. What's more, international students are guaranteed a room on campus.

Student rent in Belfast for both University Accommodation and private rentals is cheaper than other UK University cities. After living in Queen's Accommodation for six months, I have now moved into a house just 10 minutes from campus and the rent is very affordable. Friends come and visit from other UK university cities and they are struggling to find student accommodation for double what I am paying."

FEES

The tuition fee rates for non-EU students for the academic year 2018–19 are given overleaf in pounds sterling, with the approximate equivalent in US dollars. Exchange rates may vary, and all fee payments must be made in pounds sterling.

Tuition fees are subject to a 2% annual inflationary uplift. The tuition fees quoted are for the academic year 2018-19 only.

PAYMENT OF TUITION FEES

All International students must fulfil financial arrangements at registration before commencing study at the University. The options available to pay tuition fees are:

- pay the full tuition fee on enrolment, by credit/debit card, by bank transfer or by sterling cheque, or
- sign up to a Direct Debit and make a minimum 25% payment at enrolment, followed by three monthly payments, in November 2018, January and March 2019.

The Direct Debit scheme is only available to those who have a current account with a UK bank, which is registered for the Direct Debit scheme. Please note that 25% of the tuition fee liability, due at enrolment, is non-refundable.

For full details of the Withdrawal Policy, please refer to go.qub.ac.uk/fundyourfuture

For some courses, students are required to purchase instruments, equipment, or attend field trips. The funds required to cover such students’ needs may exceed the above fees. These amounts suggested do not take account of funds to support any dependants. For more information, see the online Course Finder qub.ac.uk/courses

COST OF LIVING

Belfast has the lowest cost of living in the UK (Mercer 2016). For immigration purposes, non-EU students will be required to show evidence of funds to cover living expenses. For more information, visit go.qub.ac.uk/intvisa

US FEDERAL LOANS

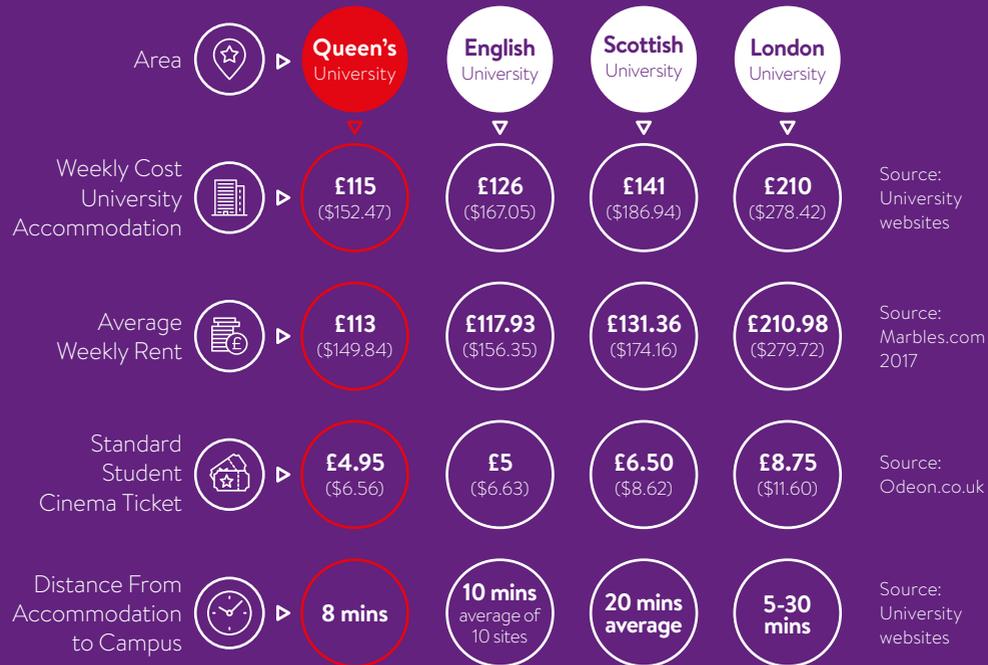

Many US students opt to finance their studies at Queen’s through US Federal Loans. Queen’s is approved by the US Department of Education for participation in the Title IV Federal Loans programme.

US Federal Loans are generally available to eligible students who will be undertaking Bachelor’s, Master’s or PhD programmes at Queen’s, except in Medicine and Nursing. Students can normally borrow up to the full cost of attendance of their programme (including tuition, subsistence and airfare).

² These programmes are not suitable for international candidates who are already qualified nurses and midwives in their own country, as much of the learning would be repeated. Applicants should instead consider the BSc Honours Nursing (Top-Up) or BSc Honours Health and Clinical Studies.

³ This programme is designed for Nurses and Midwives who are qualified to diploma level in their own country, to bring their qualification to degree level. Application for admission is direct to the University and not via UCAS. Please contact the School of Nursing and Midwifery for details on entrance requirements, how to apply and associated information. Email: nur.registry@qub.ac.uk
