Hello and welcome to cite2write. My name is Tim Crawford and I work for the Learning Development Service who have developed this resource. Cite2write is designed to help you learn how to reference properly, whether you are a student in Queen’s, or from elsewhere.

It’s split into the different referencing systems, so you can click through whichever one is relevant to you; you can look at a PDF file which explains that system in more detail and you can also watch a short video about each referencing style too.

Furthermore, there are reference generator tools, which can help to become more familiar with creating your own reference list and bibliography. I hope you enjoy using this website and that it’s useful to you and please do feedback if you have any comments to make.

All the best, bye bye.
