

Centre for Educational Development: Introduction

The Centre for Educational Development (CED) is part of the Educational & Skills Development Division within the Directorate of Academic & Student Affairs. CED works with staff from across the University to support the enhancement and development of learning, teaching and assessment (including e-learning). It offers a range of activities, including support for:

- Continuing Professional Development of staff in learning, teaching and assessment
 - Curriculum Development
 - E-learning, distance learning, MOOCs
 - Reflective Practice including preparation for PREP and HEA Fellowship applications
