

MS34 Shaw Collection

About the collection:

Papers of the Ulster-born academic, Judge James Johnston Shaw (1845-1910). The collection includes correspondence, notes, lectures and other papers primarily concerning Shaw's early career as Professor of Metaphysics and Ethics at Magee College Derry (1869-78) and as Professor of Political Economy at Trinity College Dublin (1876-91), and later, as Chairman of the "Belfast University Commissioners" (1908-10), who were charged with framing the governing statutes of the new Queen's University of Belfast. The collection also contains series of letters from friends and colleagues providing an interesting insight into Shaw's personal life and opinions, and those of his correspondents. Principal correspondents include Sir Samuel Dill (1844-1924), the Rev. S.L. Harrison of Castlebellingham (fl. 1868-1910), and John Park of Belfast (1838-1913), all former students of Queen's College Belfast, and the Rev. James Rowan of Kirkcubbin (fl. 1859-1877), a former mentor, and his brother John Shaw (fl. 1900-1910). An important and respected figure in both Irish educational and legal circles at the time, the collection also includes a number of draft memoirs and addresses on Shaw by some of his contemporaries delivered after his death in 1910.

MS34/5 Correspondence with Rev. S. L. Harrison of Castlebellingham, 1886-1910

Incomplete series of letters principally from James J. Shaw, Dublin, to the Rev S.L. Harrison of Castlebellingham, Co. Louth. Also includes two letters from Rev. Harrison to Shaw's daughter following Shaw's death in 1910.

Harrison and Shaw were contemporaries of Queen's College Belfast during the early 1860s. The letters stand as testimony to a longstanding friendship and, as such, contain mostly personal news and observations.

24 MS letters.

MS34/5/1 14/10/1868 Letter from James J. Shaw (writing from Sydenham, Belfast) to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Encourages Harrison to canvas votes on his behalf [for a position at Magee College, Derry]. See also [Testimonials in favour of James Johnston Shaw (in support of his application for the Chair of metaphysics and ethics in Magee College, Londonderry), [1868.]

MS34/5/2 26.02/1879 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Makes reference to Harrison's application for a new ministerial position.

MS34/5/3 21/08/1902 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Comments on how he enjoys receiving letters from Harrison. He writes that they "show some of the better side of human life. There is so much hardness, mischief and indifference around me that it is like a well of water in a thirsty land to come across genuine human feelings."

MS34/5/4 27/12/1902 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Talks about having spent Christmas in Belfast and comments that his "paper" [to the Literary Society of Queen's College Belfast] was "not well reported" [see Section 3/10 above].

MS34/5/5 13/01/1903 Letter from James J. Shaw (writing from Killarney) to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Recalls his recollections of Professor Smyth, Professor of Hebrew, Magee College, Derry.

MS34/5/6 21/05/1903 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Makes reference to John McDermott, a former associate of theirs from their days at Queen's College Belfast, who had just been appointed Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland. "I can never forget the fair faced boy who sat near me at the Matriculation Exam in 1861. I can yet see Tommy Andrews stopping and looking at him and then asking him what age he was." Also intimates his feelings towards the Presbyterian Church. "...I know I am suspect as a heretic and a bad Presbyterian.... [but] I never could care a wish whether we had organs or not and yet the Church spent 30 years on that supreme question..."

- MS34/5/7 22/11/1903 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Comments on the state of their friendship and other family news.
- MS34/5/8 27/02/1904 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Talks about completing a lecture he was due to deliver in Belfast. "It is now in the printer's hands and will be published just as soon as it is delivered...The people in Belfast are sadly behind in this question, and I feel, it is a forlorn hope I am going on." See Free Trade, Retaliation and Tariff Reform: An address delivered to the Ulster Free Trade Union at Belfast, March 4 1904 (Dublin, 1904) – QUB Ref. [hpHF2046/SHAW and MS34/5/10]
- MS34/5/9 1/03/1904 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Comments on plans to visit the North of Ireland, in particular a trip to the Ards to hear Sam Hawthorne preach "one of his good sermons" [Sam Hawthorne was a student with Shaw at Queen's College Belfast].
- MS34/5/10 7/03/1904 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Speaks of having been in Belfast to deliver a lecture on the Free trade platform. Felt that the feeling in the city was "intense the other way." [See also MS34/5/8]
- MS34/5/11 23/03/1904 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison.
- MS34/5/12 4/04/1905 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Writing from the Castle Hotel in Ballybunion, Co. Kerry, Shaw refers to his work ("administering what we call 'justice'") in the region and comments on Samuel Dill's new book, Roman Society from Nero to Marcus Aurelius.
- MS34/5/13 15/03/1905 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Comments on a planned visit to Castlebellingham.
- MS34/5/14 24/03/1905 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison.
- MS34/5/15 24/10/1905 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Makes arrangements to meet for lunch in Dublin.
- MS34/5/16 21/12/1906 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison.
- MS34/5/17 20/03/1907 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Includes reference to the Gaelic League boycott of an Irish exhibition in Dublin and Augustine Birrell's (Chief Secretary of Ireland, 1900-1916) Irish Council Bill [this piece of legislation was an attempt at administrative home rule for Ireland. It was rejected by a nationalist conference on 21 May 1907 and subsequently failed its second reading in Westminster]

- MS34/5/18 23/01/1908 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Relates his feelings on the death of his wife, Mary. He writes, "Hardly anybody outside our own family knew better than you what my dear wife was and what she was to me – the good angel of my life."
- MS34/5/19 7/07/1908 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Describes how he had seen their "friend John McDermott" in London trying to stir up opposition to Augustine Birrell's Irish University Bill. Reports that "it was a dismal failure. The only allies he could secure were the most bigoted and ignorant Orangemen in the House..."
- MS34/5/20 1/03/1909 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Makes reference to his heavy workload and the Belfast University Commissioners. He praises the contributions made by Sir Arthur Rucher, Sir Donald McAlister and Samuel Dill on the Commission.
- MS34/5/21 5/06/1909 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Comments on the progress of the University Commission, making particular reference to the controversy surrounding the establishment of a Readership in Scholastic Philosophy, which, he writes, has worked "The people in Belfast ...into a terrible state of excitement and indignation."
- MS34/5/22 6/12/1909 Letter from James J. Shaw to Rev. S.L. Harrison. Acknowledges Harrison's congratulations on his appointment as County Court Judge for Antrim and comments on his continuing work on behalf of the new Queen's University of Belfast. He writes, "I now have 536 students in the new University and 85 of those are Roman Catholic. Isn't that something to be proud of?"
- MS34/5/23 2/09/1910 Letter from Rev. S.L. Harrison to Mrs ["Meg"] Woods (née Shaw). Comments on his friendship with the Shaw family and urges Mrs Woods to keep up a correspondence with him despite the recent death of her father, James J. Shaw.
- MS34/5/24 23/09/1910 Letter from Rev. S.L. Harrison to Mrs ["Meg"] Woods (née Shaw). Congratulates her on the life and review she was writing in memory of her father. Expresses his "great loneliness that he is gone."

MS34/6 Correspondence with John Shaw of Indianapolis, 1900-1910

Small series of letters to James J. Shaw from his brother, John Shaw of Indianapolis, mostly containing personal and/or family news, but also commenting on an investment made by Shaw in the National Bank of Cuba.

MS34/8 Correspondence with Rev. James Rowan of Kirkcubbin, 1859-1877

Rev Rowan appears to be a personal friend of the Shaw family in Kirkcubbin and of Shaw in particular, perhaps an early mentor in his academic studies. As such the majority of the letters deal primarily with personal and/or domestic affairs, Shaw's early career at Magee College Derry and Trinity College Dublin, and his decision to enter the legal profession. Matters of academic disputation and debate between the two men are also raised throughout.

MS34/9 Various Correspondents (“Political”), 1864-1909

Series of letters to James J. Shaw from a variety of correspondents concerning mainly political issues and the establishment of Queen’s University Belfast. Also features a series 38 letters from Sir Samuel Dill in which a general correspondence is maintained from c 1864. This is particularly notable for charting developments in Dill’s studies at Queen’s College, Belfast and Corpus Christi College, Oxford.

The items have been arranged primarily in chronological order with subsequent grouping by correspondent. One exception concerns letters received by Shaw in response to his pamphlet on the Union Question, c. 1887 (see MS34/9/43 – MS34/9/56).

106 letters (mainly MS), 1864-1909
