

MS 65 Corr Collection

About the collection:

This collection comprises documents and artefacts from the Corr family archive. The collection pertains mainly to Elizabeth Corr. Biographical information for Elizabeth Corr is available on the website A Century of Women and in The Women of Belfast: Cumann na mBan, Easter Week and After by Margaret Ward.

In the period around 1916 the Corr family, from Belfast's Ormeau Road, played significant roles in seminal events of the time, including the Easter Rising, the Irish revolutionary period post 1916, and the First World War. Elizabeth and Nell were members of Cumann na mBan and Henry a member of the Irish Volunteers. Their brothers George and Charles fought in the First World War for the Australian and Canadian armies.

The items in this collection featured in The Corr Family – Witnessing History exhibition which ran at the Linen Hall Library in April 2016, and at the Ulster Museum in July and August 2016. The collection was donated to Special Collections & Archives, Queen's University Belfast in 2018 by James G. May. The donor has retained some items that featured in the 2016 exhibition.
