

Graduate School, room TR6, Queen's University
5pm - 8th November 2016

The Peasant Activism Project presents

An Experimental Path

(documentary, 40', 2016, Italy)

In an experimental journey, a manufacturer of essential oils, a cattle breeder, a beekeeper and a baker demonstrate how "participatory guarantee" can become an alternative model to conceive food production and consumption, able to bring together independent small-scale farmers, producers and consumers in Italy in new forms of exchange and community.

Screening and debate of the documentary with the author

Fabrizio Loce-Mandes (School of History, Anthropology, Philosophy and Politics)

and the coordinator of the project Alexander Koenler

(Senator George J. Mitchell Institute for Global Peace, Security and Justice)

Discussants

Cahal McLaughlin (Chair of Film Studies, School of Arts, English and Languages)

Katrina Campbell (Institute for Global Food Security)

The Peasant Activism Project (2016-2018) is financed by the Economic and Social Science Research Council and hosted by Queen's University Belfast. The project investigates innovative political activism related to grassroot attempts to re-appropriate the right to certify food.

Info and contacts: info@peasantproject.org: peasantproject.org