WELCOME

Thank you for considering applying to study with us here at Queen's University Belfast.

We know there is a lot of information to take on board and to consider when making the decision about which university to choose. It's a big decision to make and one which entails much more than looking at what degree courses are on offer.

As a Queen's University student, you will join a Russell Group university, based in the heart of Belfast, a modern capital city known for its welcome, accessibility and affordability. Not only has it been named the best region in the UK to visit (Lonely Planet, 2017) and among the top five most affordable student cities (Marbles.com, 2017), but it is also just a short plane journey from all major UK cities.

Queen's University is an incredibly exciting place to be. From the day you arrive here, you will be part of a world-class international university built on a foundation of exceptional teaching, cutting-edge research, innovation, collaboration and engagement.

With some £700m invested in the student experience – we're invested in you. You will enjoy a world-class campus with a wide range of support services and we guarantee a place in our award-winning student accommodation for all our GB students in your first year.

Our investment in students also includes fantastic scholarship opportunities specifically for GB students which will enable you to achieve your academic ambitions.

I hope you enjoy reading this Mini-Guide and discovering all that Queen's and Belfast has to offer, and that it helps in your decision to join us. I look forward to welcoming you on campus.

Professor James C McElnay
Acting President and Vice-Chancellor

NORTHERN IRELAND: OUTDOOR ADVENTURE

Whether you're on a pilgrimage to the famous Game of Thrones filming locations or you fancy exploring caves, castles and coastline, you'll find it all within an hour's drive of Belfast.

The world is catching on to the secret that locals have always known: Northern Ireland is one of the most beautiful places on the planet. Just ask the experts at Lonely Planet who recently lauded Belfast and the Causeway Coast as the number one region in the world (2017). From golden beaches to lush forests, as a student in Belfast, the region's most breath-taking landscapes will be right on your doorstep.

Spend your downtime testing your nerve crossing the death-defying Carrick-a-Rede rope bridge. # THE QUEEN'S QUARTER: WHERE EVERYTHING'S WITHIN EASY REACH

The Lanyon Building

The beauty of student life in Belfast is that everywhere is walkable. It's just a short stroll from our accommodation to campus, and from the main site to the city centre. In fact, you won't need to spend much on travel at all because everything you need to enjoy the best of student life is right on your doorstep.

Without bus and train fares to worry about, you'll have more to spend on enjoying life outside the lecture theatre. The cultural quarter surrounding our campus is the most vibrant district of Belfast. Here, you'll find everything from hot-ticket cultural events and party nights to international festivals and world cuisine worth queuing for.

The Naughton Gallery

A COSMOPOLITAN COMMUNITY

Our friendly and welcoming student community and buzzing entertainment scene offers a ready-made social life from the day you arrive. From classical concerts at the Whitlea Hall to legendary club nights, not to mention pub quizzes, poetry readings and comedy nights, Queen's Quarter is bursting with entertainment venues that attract the best from the worlds of theatre, dance, music, film, arts and literature. It's no wonder our venues feature hotly in the calendar of both the Belfast International Arts Festival and the Belfast Film Festival.

AN ART-LOVER'S PARADISE

The University is home to the renowned visual arts platform, the Naughton Gallery, the Seamus Heaney Centre for Poetry and the Brian Friel Centre for Theatre. We even have our own boutique cinema, the QFT (Queen's Film Theatre), presenting the best in classic and new world cinema.

Some of our favourite spots near campus include the Ulster Museum (don't miss their awesome science evenings, where you can experiment over cocktails); the infamously rowdy comedy nights at The Belfast Empire Music Hall, and the Lyric Theatre, where you might just catch a glimpse of current patron and Queen's alumni Liam Neeson. (Pst! The coffee shop alone is worth a visit for the superb panoramic views over the River Lagan).

A MULTICULTURAL AND CREATIVE HUB

There is an incredible range of cafés, bistros and restaurants dotted around the University's bohemian surroundings, catering to all tastes and budgets. In the space of 400 metres along Botanic Avenue, you can sample food from Japan, Korea, Nepal, China, the Middle East, India, Italy, Mexico and, of course, Northern Ireland – all washed down with home-grown craft brews.

You'll also find quirky vintage and pre-loved shopping, and the famed No Alibis indie bookstore, while the Fine & Dandy Sunday market in the Crescent Arts Centre is a creative hub for independent artists, designers, illustrators and crafters.

GREEN SPACES AND URBAN PARKS

A short hop from the bustling streetscape of Botanic Avenue is the lush foliage of Botanic Gardens, a beautiful city park where you can find some headspace in the Palm House or the Tropical Ravine.

In fact, you'll be surprised to find just how accessible natural solitude is from Queen's: the nearby Lagan Towpath offers an unspoilt stretch of riverbank with forest walks and meadows that feel a world away from our bustling campus.

EXPLORE OUR WORLD-CLASS FACILITIES

The Computer Science Building

Step inside your £700million classroom. You'll benefit from substantial investment in our teaching facilities that has developed our historic campus into an innovative learning environment for our exceptional students and staff.

JOIN THE CLUB!

Meet new people, have fun and make the most of your time at Queen's by joining one of our 200 plus clubs and societies. There's a wide range to suit everyone, including sport, gaming, creative, cultural, academic and charitable groups – or if you can't find one that suits you, you can even start your own! Over 11,000 students are members of our student-led clubs and societies. They give you a little bit more: more fun; more time to be part of something; more time to improve your skills.

ARTS, CULTURE AND LANGUAGE

Learn a new language and more about a foreign culture or simply meet up with students from the same part of the world as you. Our multicultural societies include the African and Caribbean Society, the Chinese Students Association and the South Asian Students Society. In our inclusive campus environment, you'll have the opportunity to meet other students with shared interests and make new friends from across the globe.

MEDIA AND GAMING

Enjoy all things gaming with the Dragonslayers Society, make your mark in the world of film or music, or host your own radio show with Queen's Radio Society.

ACADEMIC AND CAREER ENHANCEMENT CLUBS

Many courses have related clubs but they do much more than discuss what happened in your latest lecture – including organising social events and fundraisers. Academic clubs can also help enhance your studies and your career opportunities in the process.

CHANGE THE CONVERSATION

Argue your point with the Literific Debate Club, or if your passion is politics then you can join one of many political clubs at Queen's. Alternatively, help raise money and awareness for a number of great causes by volunteering for one of our charitable and environmental clubs.

MAKE IT COUNT

Being part of a club is more than a great way to make friends: it's an opportunity to improve your skillset and bolster your CV. What's more, if you get involved in the running of a club, you can get credit towards a Queen's University Degree Plus Accreditation (see page 22).

Emily Romeril, Queen's Rowing Club

MEET THE PRESIDENTS

"I wanted to try rowing when I started university, but I was unsure whether I needed to have already rowed before. When I arrived, I was surprised by the friendliness of the club - anyone could join. The friends I have made through rowing are now my closest uni friends. The Boathouse has a family vibe. I would recommend rowing as it is something completely different. Also, it gives you a chance to travel throughout Ireland and the rest of the UK to compete with other universities and clubs."

Emily Romeril, Rowing Club

"Campus events bring so much more value than expected, especially when it involves people from other cultures as you get to learn about them and their culture. You can always learn something new and exciting. The African and Caribbean Society was formed to bring people from several cultures together with the aim of promoting cultural awareness."

Nyemahame Okwu, African and Caribbean Society (ACS)

"The Literific is the only debating society at Queen's; we discuss serious topical events (Israel, Repeal the 8th, for example), as well as light-hearted issues (should we be in Slytherin or in an open relationship?!). It doesn't matter if you're not good at public speaking, we'll help you improve your confidence. We're a friendly bunch! So, come along - you'll not regret it!"

Calvin Black, Literific President

"When I found out there was a sailing club at Queen's, I was really keen to get involved. When I first went to training, the people I met were lovely and really encouraged me. The team racing is challenging and I find I am always learning. I love the social side of the club the most. We have our weekly training, social nights, fundraisers, intervarsity events across Ireland, and the highlight of the year for me which was our yachting holiday to Croatia - now an annual event!"

Jocelyn Hill, Sailing Club

SPORTING ACTION

Since our foundation in 1845, sport has played an important part in the Queen's student experience. Today, we're one of the premier sporting universities in the UK and Ireland, and we encourage all our students to benefit from the positive effects of sport – whatever your level.

Our world-class indoor and outdoor sporting facilities will help you lead a healthy, active lifestyle, and are ideal for recreational, competitive or high performance athletes. We've invested over £20m in recent years improving our state-of-the-art facilities so there are even more opportunities for you to work-out and play.

There are over 50 sporting clubs, giving opportunities for students of all abilities to compete, socialise or get active, and our campus-wide sports programme encourages participation in a range of activities throughout the academic year.

We host a weekly ParkRun at our Outdoor Sporting Facility at Upper Malone, as well as our annual Deep RiverRock 5K race, which attracts thousands of recreational runners. We have also recently launched an Active Campus initiative with sporting activities and programmes to suit everyone – no matter what your interests.

COURSE DIRECTORY

Our degree courses are listed alphabetically in the following tables. Column 4 indicates the target grades in terms of A-levels. These grades should be treated as a guide only, as variations can occur in certain circumstances. Prospective students are responsible for checking the most up-to-date course requirements before applying. For full details of our entry requirements for each course, please refer to go.qub.ac.uk/coursefinder

Where alternative A-Level grades are listed in Column 5, specific subject requirements apply for the lower offer OR one of the offers is based on an A* grade OR the requirements differ for some of the degrees, for example, Joint Honours versus Single Honours. It should be noted that some courses require specific A-level subjects and grades and/or specific GCSE subjects and grades. Please refer to the Course Finder on the University's website, which will have current grade and subject requirements go.qub.ac.uk/coursefinder

Courses marked with a 'P' offer a placement option. Students taking the placement will have an additional year added to their course. Those participating normally receive remuneration.

Column 2 indicates the different weightings assigned to that subject as part of the final degree assessment:

S = Single Honours

M = Major Honours (2/3 weighting)

J = Joint Honours (1/2 weighting)

Column 3 gives the duration of the course. Courses involving the study of a foreign language as a Single, Major or Joint Honours subject require a year to be spent in the appropriate country (or countries, in the case of Joint Honours).

This undergraduate guide is prepared well in advance of the academic year to which it relates. Therefore, the target grades stated here are for guidance only.

Further details about selection procedures are available in the individual degree programmes listed at go.qub.ac.uk/coursefinder under 'Entry Requirements'. This includes a section on 'How we Choose our Students'.

POSTCARDS FROM OUR GB STUDENTS

Wish you were here? You will when you read what our current GB students have to say about living and studying in Belfast.

"Belfast is an exciting place politically, and therefore is great for the study of conflict and politics. I really enjoy the lectures, as each module is very different and allows for different perspectives to be taught. My ability to think and analyse critically is improving as well as my ability to problem-solve; all of which are important for my future career path in politics."

Ella Giddings,
BA Politics, England

"The people are so friendly!"

"I've always loved English and the course at Queen's offers a variety of literary texts, as well as passionate lecturers. There is a lot of support available at Queen's which is comforting. My confidence is growing every day. Belfast is an amazing city. I find the people very friendly and it's easy to navigate."

Lisa Cross,
BA English, Isle of Man

"I chose Queen's because it's a Russell Group University with a great reputation. Plus, the fact the course itself has a required placement year and is taught by those with experience in Actuary. The lecturers use real-life examples which puts what you are learning into context. I also enjoy the social aspect of student life. The night life in Belfast is buzzing and the shops are great. The independence you gain, too, helps you mature and be more prepared for adulthood."

Anna Thomson,
BSc Actuarial Science and Risk Management, Scotland

"Plane links are affordable and quick"

"It's really good to live somewhere new and so up and coming. Belfast is a great city that's not too big but has everything you need. Don't worry about living far away from home, plane links are affordable and quick, so you can easily visit home whenever you need to."

Abby Lucas,
BSc Economics, England

"I chose Queen's because it is a Russell Group University, which is high in the league tables for Law. It is in a great location with a beautiful campus and brilliant resources. Belfast is a vibrant, friendly city, and relatively cheap. And it's not as far as you would think! It takes 2-3 hours for me to get home, which is closer than some of my friends who stayed in England. You develop your independence so much by moving away from home. The accommodation is conveniently located to both the University and city. The shopping in the city centre is brilliant."

Olivia Grocott,
LLB Law, England

"Closer to home than you think"

"The nightlife is buzzing"

"You can walk everywhere!"

"Living in Belfast is amazing. I was so surprised when I got here because I come from London. But I love the fact that I can walk everywhere and everyone is really nice. Studying here...well it feels just like home. Everyone is so accommodating and the support is always there."

Patricia Tran,
BSc Computing and IT, England

"A great place to study politics"

HOW AND WHEN TO APPLY

HOW TO APPLY

Applications for admission to full-time undergraduate and sandwich courses at the University should normally be made through the Universities and Colleges Admissions Service (UCAS). Full information can be obtained from the UCAS website at: ucas.com/apply.

WHEN TO APPLY

UCAS will start processing applications for entry in autumn 2019 from 1 September 2018.

The advisory closing date for the receipt of applications is 15 January 2019 (18:00), however, for applicants applying to Oxford or Cambridge and for those whose choices include Medicine, Dentistry or Veterinary Medicine/Science the closing date is 15 October 2018 (18:00).

Currently there are two intakes for Adult Nursing (one in September and the other in February) and application is made for both courses by 15 January (18:00) prior to the academic year of entry ie for September and the following February. The application deadline will not change but it should be noted that from 2019-20 entry, the two intakes may be combined. Please refer to the online prospectus which will be updated as further information becomes available.

Applicants are encouraged to apply as early as is consistent with having made a careful and considered choice of institutions and courses. Earlier applicants normally receive decisions more quickly. Late applications are, in practice, accepted by UCAS throughout the remainder of the application cycle, but you should understand that they are considered by institutions at their discretion, and there can be no guarantee that they will be given the same full level of consideration as applications received by the advisory closing date.

Applications for Nursing, Midwifery and Social Work must be submitted by the 15 January (18:00) deadline. Applications received after this date will not be considered.

Take care to enter the details of the institutions and courses clearly and correctly on the application. For Queen's, the institution code name is QBELF and the institution code is Q75. These should be entered in the Choices section of your UCAS application. Please note a Campus Code is not required.

FEES AND COST OF LIVING

QUEEN'S TUITION FEES AND SUPPORT AVAILABLE

This section outlines the tuition fee and student financial support arrangements for GB students. Please visit: qub.ac.uk/TuitionFees

Queen's works to ensure that all those who can benefit from a university education have the chance to do so, and a generous system of financial support is in place to help them.

Higher education funding arrangements mean that students can study now and pay later. Student fees can become part of a loan, available from the Student Loans Company (SLC, slc.co.uk), which will be paid back when they are working and earning more than a certain amount. For current thresholds, please refer to: slc.co.uk

The tuition fees for undergraduate students, enrolling at Queen's in 2018-19, are set out below.

GB students
Full-time undergraduate: £9,250

The tuition fees quoted are for study in 2018-19 only and will be subject to an inflationary uplift in subsequent academic years. For further details on residency please visit: qub.ac.uk/TuitionFees

For full details of the University's Withdrawal Policy please visit: qub.ac.uk/TuitionFees

APPLYING FOR TUITION FEE LOANS AND SUPPORT

Eligible students, who first enrol in September 2019, can defer their fees by applying for a fee loan. Those who wish to take out a loan should complete the PNI application online – for details please refer to the websites below. A single application is made for a tuition fee loan, maintenance loan and government grant, where offered. The household income details submitted will also be used in the assessment of a student's eligibility for a University bursary. Students are encouraged to apply as soon as possible to ensure that they are aware of their entitlement to financial support before starting their course.

For further information, please contact the relevant authority, as outlined:

Students from England

Students from Scotland

PAYMENT INFORMATION

For full terms and conditions of the payment options, please contact the Student Helpline on +44 (0)28 9097 3223.

For further information, see qub.ac.uk/TuitionFees

STUDENT SUPPORT FUND

The Student Support Fund is a discretionary fund, which provides financial assistance to students who encounter financial difficulty whilst studying at Queen's. To be eligible for an award from the Support Fund, undergraduates must have taken out the maximum tuition fee loan and maintenance loan to which they are entitled.
