

Happy ST PATRICK'S DAY

We know you want to celebrate in style, but sometimes it doesn't go quite to plan. Follow these simple tips and you are more likely to have a celebration you will never forget, for all the right reasons.

.....

JOIN THE PARTY

Why risk having a house party, when you can join one of Belfast's official St Patrick's Day events? They are free, safe and you never know who you might meet.

THINK OF YOUR FUTURE

A Police record or University Disciplinary is no party. It can even impact your career and travel opportunities. So, if you want to explore the world or land your dream job, this is one achievement you won't want to have to put on your application forms.

.....

ACT RESPONSIBLY Be Respectful

Having fun doesn't mean breaking the law. Police and Council staff will be using body worn CCTV, so unless you want to be caught on camera, it is always better to play fair.

Protect Yourself

Got A Lift?

No one wants to be left out in the cold. Make sure you know in advance how you're going to get home. Remember, it's St. Patrick's Day so public transport times will be reduced and taxis are likely to be busy.

Stick Together

Have fun with your friends and try to stick together. Don't wander off on your own or let your friends do the same. After all, it's always more fun together anyway.

Got A Charger?

Remember when you had 1% and your phone died just before you hit send? We've all been there. Try and keep your phone charged and considering carrying a portable battery pack just in case.

Hangry Or Happy

Over-drinking can put your health at risk. Make sure to eat a substantial meal before your celebrations begin and drink plenty of water along the way. You will thank us in the morning.

Think Drink

It only takes a second for someone to spike your drink. Keep an eye on your glass and ask the Police for anti-spiking bottle stoppers.

Respect Others

Good Neighbour

There's nothing wrong with having a bit of craic. But remember, not everyone is partying on St. Patrick's Day. Be considerate of your neighbours, the elderly and families with young children.

NO
Means No

No matter how much fun you are having, no means no. Respect other people's boundaries.

Never get into the driver's seat if you've had alcohol. And remember friends don't let friends drive drunk either.

The Next Day

Alcohol doesn't magically leave your system when you wake up. You may still be over the legal limit for driving the morning after.

Hot Property

Lose It

If you're having people over, only let friends in and keep an eye on who is coming and going. Otherwise your favourite things might walk out the door.

Lock It

When you are away from your house, make sure it is locked up before you leave and any alarms are set. It only takes a minute but is worth it.

Keep It

If a party gets out of hand you may be vulnerable to theft, damage and even lose your hard-earned deposit.
