Team Manager – Allstate Technology & Operations - PMO

Marie Butterfield

Belfast, Northern Ireland.

MEng - Mechanical & Manufacturing Engineering QUB (1993)

Marie's engineering degree has given her a sound base on which to build a varied, often challenging but ultimately rewarding career spanning 20 years. In that time she has worked across four global industries including Petrochemicals with Mobil Oil, Textiles with Moygashel, Telecommunications with Nortel and Information technology with Allstate. Her professional development has evolved over a number of key roles including Production Controller, Production Foreman, Operations Systems Specialist, Six Sigma Green Belt, Engineering Lead, Project Manager and Team Manager.

In addition to her personal development within her technical and managerial roles, Marie has had great opportunities to work and travel globally gaining experience working with many diverse and inspirational people. 20 years after leaving Queen's and now mum to three children, she is still learning and enjoying the journey !

In her view, the best advice for any aspiring engineer is to 'Stay focused on what makes a difference - If it's not adding value, don't do it!'
