

Forensic Medicine & Legal Process

The School of Medicine, Dentistry and Biomedical Sciences at Queen's University Belfast have developed a new short course for 2020, designed to introduce relevant professionals to forensic medicine and the legal aspects of medical practice, including the role of the General Medical Council in the regulation of doctors.

This new course in Forensic Medicine and Legal Process will be delivered by Honorary Professor of Forensic Medicine and retired State Pathologist in Northern Ireland, Professor Jack Crane, alongside Director, LLB, CPLS, PGCHET, and Fellow of Higher Teaching Academy and qualified solicitor Barbara Jemphrey. The course will provide participants with the opportunity to gain knowledge and understanding as to how injuries are interpreted, cases are prepared for court and the court process as well as a special focus on the role of the coroner.

For more information on module topics, entry requirements, fees and how to apply visit our website If you have any questions about the course, please contact pgoffice.smdb@qub.ac.uk (School of Medicine, Dentistry & Biomedical Sciences) or c.a.armstrong@qub.ac.uk (Institute of Legal Studies)

Admissions Application instructions

1. Application for this short course is made via the Direct Application Portal (DAP), please click on the link to access: https://dap.qub.ac.uk/portal/user/u_login.php

2. You will need to register as a new user, unless you have previously registered to undertake a course at QUB

3. You will have a number of options, but you should choose those listed below. Please note you will not be able to choose Forensic Medicine & Legal Process at this point

- Choose Career – Postgraduate Taught
- Choose School/Institute – Medicine, Dentistry and Biomedical Sciences
- Choose Degree – Medicine, Dentistry & Biomedical Sciences (Institutional Credit - Postgraduate Taught)
- Click – Continue button

4. You also need to include specific text in the Additional Information box, this should include the title of the short course (module) you are undertaking Forensic Medicine & Legal Process and explain your interest in undertaking it.

5. If you should have any issues in completing this online application you should refer to the Admissions & Access Service (pg.apply@qub.ac.uk)

Date course commences	Wednesday 14 September 2022 for 12 consecutive evenings
Time	6pm
Venue	Institute of Professional Legal Studies, 10 Lennoxvale, BT9 5BY