

Modern Humanities Research Association

The Centenary Lectures 2018

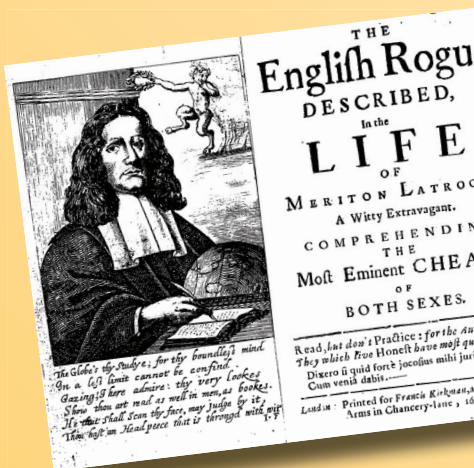

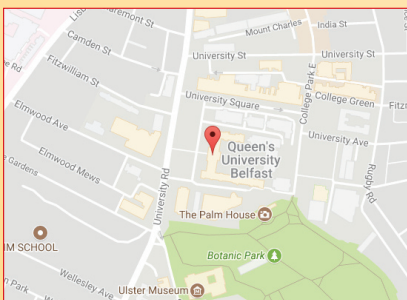

Professor Roland Greene

Early Modern Prose Fiction: How to Think About It without Anticipating the Novel

Thursday 8 November 2018 at 6pm

Council Chamber, Lanyon Building
Queen's University Belfast

Formed in the summer of 1918, when Europe could hardly have been more divided, the Modern Humanities Research Association takes a broad and inclusive definition of European culture. We celebrate our centenary year with a series of lectures by distinguished speakers at universities across the UK.

UK Charity Number 1064670

www.mhra.org.uk/membership

@mhrabooks

@mhrabooks

Our 1500 books and journals include:

Modern Language Review

Legenda • Texts and Translations

The MHRA Style Guide (free online)

We provide early career support:

Research Scholarships

Research Associateships

Conference Grants

Postgraduate Associateship

1918
2018

