

Ovarian Cancer – Innovations in Research and Care

Free Public Information Event

Tuesday 18 June 2019

Basement Seminar Room, Centre for Cancer Research and Cell Biology (CCRCB), Queen's University Belfast (QUB), Lisburn Road, MBC site, 2 - 4 pm

Tea / Coffee and Information Stands available from 1.30pm in the CCRCB foyer

2pm Welcome to the Centre for Cancer Research and Cell Biology

Professor Chris Scott, Acting Scientific Director, CCRCB

Welcome and Introduction

Professor Richard Wilson, Honorary Professor in Cancer Medicine, CCRCB, QUB and Professor of Gastrointestinal Oncology, Wolfson Wohl Cancer Research Centre, Glasgow

Personal reflections about Angela Hogg

Julia Tolan, Professional Manager Pharmacy Services, Specialist and Community Services, Belfast HSC Trust

Innovation in the treatment of Ovarian Cancer – Perspectives from Manchester

Professor Gordon Jayson, University of Manchester and Christie Hospital Manchester

Early Detection Biomarkers in Ovarian Cancer

Dr Laura Feeney, Clinical Research fellow/Medical Oncology Trainee, CCRCB, QUB

Tea / Coffee and Information Stands

Surgical Advances in Ovarian Cancer & Research

Dr Mark McComiskey, Consultant Gynaecologist, Belfast HSC Trust

Family Services in Cancer Care

Rachel Smith, Family Service Co-ordinator /Drama therapist, Cancer Focus Northern Ireland

Question Time

Concluding Remarks

4pm Close

This event is held in memory of our esteemed and much missed colleague Angela Hogg