

POLITICAL THEORY AND PHILOSOPHY SEMINAR SERIES

Semester 2, 2019/20

All seminars take place Fridays at 2 pm in The Meredith Room, School of History, Anthropology, Philosophy, & Politics, 23 University Square, Queen's University, Belfast, unless otherwise indicated.

Friday 31 January	Alan Coffee (King's College London), "Slaves to Individuals or Slaves of the Community: Frederick Douglass, Republican Theory, and the Invisible Chains that Bind Us."
Friday 7 February	Cillian McBride (QUB), "Toleration or Recognition?"
Friday 14 February	Kyle Shuttleworth (Independent Scholar), "The History and Ethics of Authenticity."
Friday 28 February	Chenchen Zhang (QUB), "Free Movement and Social Citizenship: Towards a Politically Constructed Understanding of Solidarity across Borders."
Friday 6 March	Kevin Lacourse (TCD), "Just Peace and Presumptive Benefit: Applying Fair Play Theory to Provisional Authority Arrangements."
Friday 20 March	Alasia Nuti (York), "Emancipation and the Unjust Past."
Friday 27 March	Jonathan Lewis (DCU), "What Can Bioethics Learn from Analytic Feminism?"
Friday 24 April	Jeremy Watkins (QUB), "Corrective Justice and the Continuity Thesis."
Friday 1 May	Joseph Lacey (UCD), "On Popular Votes and the Problems of Self-Government: The Case for Standard Direct Democracy."
Friday 15 May	Maria Dimova-Cookson (Durham), "Positive Freedom."
Friday 22 May	New Perspectives on Civility Workshop (Suzanne Whitten (Limerick), organizer). Programme to be confirmed.
Friday 29 May	John Barry (QUB), "Climate Breakdown, Hope, Courage, and Agency."

To receive pre-circulated papers, please email Keith Breen at k.breen@qub.ac.uk

Also, please earmark the following dates for semester 2:

Friday 21 February	Democracy Unit workshop: Jamie Pow (QUB) and John Coakley (QUB/UCD).
Friday 13 March	Democracy Unit workshop: Lisa Whitten (QUB) and Rebecca Kerr (QUB).