

TRANSLATIONAL MEDICINE SYMPOSIUM
ADVANCED THERAPY MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND TECHNOLOGIES
MCCLAY LIBRARY AUDITORIUM, 23RD MAY 2014

- 09:45-10:00 Registration with Tea and coffee on arrival
- 10:00-10:15 Introduction from Professor James McElroy (Pro-Vice-Chancellor for Research and Postgraduates) on behalf of the Vice-Chancellor
A brief introduction to the importance of translational medicine for the University
- 10:15-11:00 Ms. Imogen Swann (Head of Regulation, HTA)
A review of the standards for Human Application, a comparison with the requirements for Research Licences and other hot topics
- 11:00-11:45 Dr Jimmy McBlaine (Pre-clinical Assessor, MHRA)
Regulatory framework for developing advanced therapy product medicinal product & expectations for preclinical data
- 11:45-12:10 Professor Ryan Donnelly (QUB)
The importance for academia of early engagement within a novel regulatory environment
- 12:10-12:45 A light lunch will be provided
- 12:45-13:30 Dr Jacqueline Barry (Head of Regulatory Affairs, Cell Therapy Catapult)
A review of transferring bench science to patient benefits and the hurdles that must be overcome
- 13:30-14:15 Mr Neil Magowan (Manager GMP Suite, Scottish National Blood Transfusion Service)
The Scottish National Islet Transplant Programme, Advanced Therapy Medicinal Products and Good Manufacturing Practice units
- 14:15-15:00 Panel Questions
The panel will answer questions from the audience and a selection that have been collected during the day
- 15:00-15:05 Closing remarks

REGISTER/BOOK

To register for this event please email: researchgovernance@qub.ac.uk or telephone 02890 975315/2529